

Shalom for the City

By Ken Medema© 2009

We shall seek the Shalom of the City
We will work with each other hand in hand
We will build and we will plant
We will pray and we will dream
Come shalom to our city to our land, to our land
We will build and we will plant
We will pray and we will dream
Come shalom to our city to our land, to our land.

Seeking change that will last down the ages
Till our city will blossom again
Speaking hope in these streets filled with weeping
Health and healing where now there is pain
Seeking strength that will build new tomorrows
For we know they are here to be found
We will love God with soul, mind and body
To our neighbors in love we'll be bound

We shall seek the Shalom of the City
We will work with each other hand in hand
We will build and we will plant
We will pray and we will dream
Come shalom to our city to our land, to our land
We will build and we will plant
We will pray and we will dream
Come shalom to our city to our land, to our land.

We put hands to the work set before us
All our talents and gifts we will bring
Many faiths many cultures together
Till our streets with glad music will ring
Come and join in this holy endeavor
In this work there is room for us all
Bringing peace and good will to our city
This our dream this our prayer this our call

We shall seek the Shalom of the City
We will work with each other hand in hand
We will build and we will plant
We will pray and we will dream
Come shalom to our city to our land, to our land
We will build and we will plant
We will pray and we will dream
Come shalom to our city to our land, to our land.
